CITY PAY ROLLS | RECRUITING OF

Continuing its headlong flight the board of supervisors Friday night took up the salary question where it left off last 's needay night on the second reading of the budget, and without hesitation boosted the pay roll $1380 a month more, which with salaries raised Tuesday, makes a grand total of

Advocates General Raise

If we are going to raise anyone let us raise all," said Arnold, "The day laborer has just as much if not more reason to ask for a raise. Let every one on a percentage basis. A reason a special appeal is being made 30 cents a day increase to a man who to them. is only receiving $2 a day means more to him than a $25 raise a month to a $150 man.

Larsen went on record as opposed to all heads of departments receiving

With the present high cost of living a man getting less than $100 should be given more, but it is an imposition for a high salaried man to request a raise with the present financial status of the board," he said. am plad Arnold favors the percentage system, but at the same time his request for large sums for road purposes smacks of vote buying. The biggest increase came in the police department, where 104 men received a total of $1150 more a month. The three captains were raised $10 to $120 and the three sergeants each got $5 more. Captain McDuffle received $10 to $200 and Sergeant Swift $15 to $150, while Sergeants Anderson and Stein were raised $15 to $100. The 10 traffic officers, because of their dangerous positions, received the largest jump, from $80 to $100. Other increases were 27 foot patrolmen, 14 mounted officers, six bicycle and 18 county officers $10 each, and four substation officers, three receiving clerks and several others got $5 more. Others Seek For Advances

Just before the budget was taken up Hollinger asked that all school janone at McKinley High School, and after considerable argument it passed. The raise, out of the school fund, is Harry Murray, superintendent of the water department, also got $20 more, raising his salary to $250.

The board also voted $130 a month more for the salaries of the men at the county jail.

On this round of the pay roll the attorney's office was the first to receive attention. Hollinger proposed that A. M. Cristy be raised $20, but it was voted down. Then a motion to raise the clerk and stenographer $10 each was made and passed. Ahia attempted to have the attorney's incidentals cut and although it passed on the first vote it was reconsidered.

For the second time within three months Henry Freitas, building inspector, was raised, his salary being increased $25 to $250. The reason for this was to make all heads of depart-

One of the most deserving raising was that of James Goo, stenographer in the engineer's office, from $100 to $125. "He is the hardest working man in the city's employ," said Hollinger.

The question of putting the donation of the promotion committee back was taken up and the finance committee asked to bring in a report. Other raises were the two fish in-spectors and the meat inspector, all getting $10 more.

Cooke and Castle both answered Makekau saying that the resolution requests Congress for a survey, the "order" being in the hands of Congress itself. Cooke declared such a survey would show the legislators what they need to do in regulating schools and he saw nothing wrong with it.

"I think the gentleman is trying to block education's advance," said Cooke as he sat down.

Desha Reverses His Opinion

Senator Desha, chairman of the committee reporting in favor of the resolution, admitted that he had been ly arrest. of the opinion such a survey would be dangerous, but since studying it carefully he had changed his mind.

The resolution said in part: "This resolution, requesting the cut scalps.
